“ I knew Andrea for about 7 years. Last I saw her was in 2012. I was only 23 during the time and would meet up with her occasionally to walk our dogs together. We would just talk about all of our ideas of life and get deep into politics and religion. We didn't always agree. But she truly touched my heart because she didn't have her own kids and once told me I was like a son to her. Of course, being so young. I didn't keep contact with her the way I wish I had because life's responsibilities working full time and going to school part time. I barely had time for any friends. One day I got a text from her telling me I was a very good person and that she hoped for all the best for me. I told her that someday I would catch up with her again. Here I am in June 2017 with my own kids. She would have loved to meet them. I am respectfully asking her family to please inform me what happened to her. I left my email if possible. My heart goes out to her and her family. I hope she was happy in her final days. She was a very good person.

“ I have known Andrea for over 35 years and she is very dear to my heart. Although we did not live near each other and only communicated once in a blue moon, it felt like no time had passed at all when we did speak. I loved her very much and will miss her dearly. Rest in peace my Angel. Amy Panza
