“ I haven't been able to write this without breaking down. Papi lived with us the past year and I'm so grateful for every moment. Pa, I miss everything about you. From the dishes clattering at random hours of the morning, to the smell of coffee before waking up, down to the "pacharooooo" you would say Pachi, our dog, anytime you came home. I miss the annoying sound of the ring doorbell notifying me every time you came in and out the house till you tossed it in the plants. I speak for both myself and your son, Junior - when I say things will never be the same. We miss you so much papi. I hope you're sitting up with the angels, with a glass of jameson, forever smiling and laughing at and with us. Love you forever.

“ We spoke every day, we shared life experiences. We laughed we joked, but most of all we loved each other very very much and you never let me forget that I can't help but keep listening to the message that you left me when you said Cuz I love you so much and don't you ever forget that. You said I was your protector that I never cared if the issue you had was with a guy or a girl . At the end of the day, I always had your back and held you down! You said you never gave up because you saw how strong I was and you got your strength from me. Those words made me so proud. If you only know, I'm not as strong as everyone thinks. 😞 never give u BM p because I see how strong you are and through you I get my strength. I'm not sure if that's good or bad but whatever I did to get you through your issues at that time will always stay in my heart. You're my little brother then now and always my heart is devastated cracked and may be a little broken, but somehow I'll find a way to keep the pieces together, so I could always hold your love in my heart. ❤️
